CSS Fixes + Resets

Reference to a few CSS fixes or resets. They wipe out funky CSS defaults that you don't want…

Note:

- THERE ARE TONS OF CSS RESETS ONLINE. These are some basics but you can search for more….
- *CSS fixes are one of the few times you should use the universal element * to change ALL elements on the page*

Three basic fixes:

Reset ALL margins and padding

- Wipe out weird legacy margin and padding by setting them to 0

62.5 % Fix

- Changes default rem sizes to easier-to-read numbers that correspond to pixel values
  - Instead of 1rem being 16 pixels, the fix makes it so 1.6rem corresponds to 16px

BOX SIZING FIX

- Sets all box-sizing to border-box, so that the size of a container includes padding and border.
  - Default is content-box, which is just the content itself
  - Border-box is a more intuitive way to calculate width and height of an element on the page
